

DELHI NEPHROLOGY SOCIETY 2024

7th April 2024

Jawaharlal Nehru Auditorium
AIIMS, New Delhi

Welcome Message

Dear Esteemed Faculty and Delegates,
Greetings!

On behalf of the organizing committee, it is with great pleasure that I extend a warm welcome to you all for the Annual Update of the Delhi Nephrology Society, scheduled to take place on the 7th of April, 2024 at the prestigious JLN Auditorium, AIIMS Delhi. This annual gathering serves as a pivotal platform for all of us to converge, exchange insights, and delve into the latest advancements in the field of nephrology. With a diverse range of topics to be discussed, we anticipate enriching discussions and collaborations that will undoubtedly contribute to the enhancement of patient care and scientific knowledge.

We are honored to have a distinguished lineup of faculty members who will be sharing their expertise and experiences, enriching us with their knowledge and guiding us through the complexities of nephrology. As we embark on this journey of learning and collaboration, let us seize this opportunity to foster new connections, exchange ideas, and collectively work towards advancing the frontiers of nephrology. This year we also have a distinguished international speaker to provide us valuable insights into transplantation.

The venue, Jawaharlal Nehru Auditorium AIIMS Delhi, renowned for its state-of-the-art facilities and conducive environment for academic discourse, promises to provide the perfect setting for our endeavors.

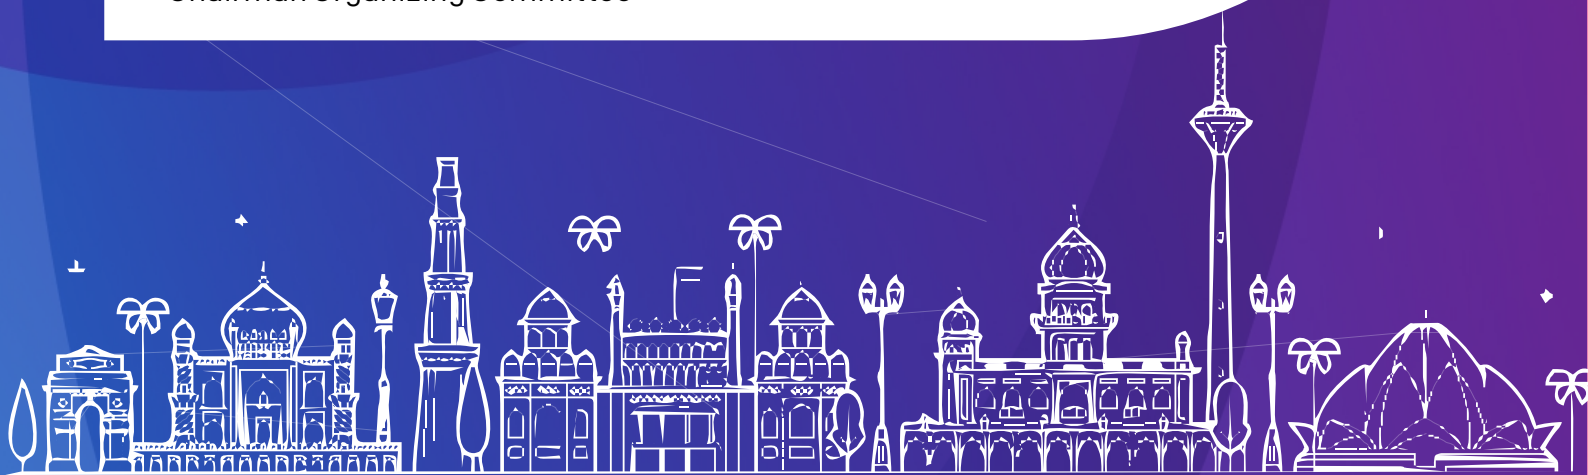

Once again, a heartfelt welcome to each one of you.

Together, let us make the Annual Update of the Delhi Nephrology Society 2024 a resounding success!

Warm regards,

Attractions

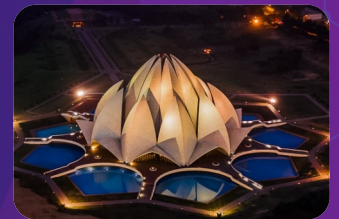

Constructed in 1639 by the Mughals, Red Fort gets its name from its massive red-coloured sandstone walls. Set in Old Delhi, the octagonal-shaped fort is spread over an area of 254 acres. The planning and designing of the fort is a fusion of Mughal, Persian, Hindu, and Timurid traditions. A strong influence on later structures built in and around Delhi, Red Fort also features a museum that holds Mughal-era artefacts, including daggers, curtains, miniature paintings and carpets. The highlights of this architectural creativity include the peacock throne, step well, imperial bath, Moti Masjid and Hira Mahal.

India Gate symbolises the sacrifice of 70,000 Indian soldiers who lost their lives battling against the foreign army during the World War I. Designed by Edwin Lutyens, it features the undying Amar Jawan Jyoti or the Flame of the Immortal Soldier which was added later to honour Indian martyred soldiers in the Indo-Pak War. Furthermore, this beautiful masterpiece is counted amongst the largest war memorials in India. Standing on a Bharatpur stone base, the structure is surrounded by lush lawns making it a popular picnic spot during winter afternoons and summer evenings. Lit at night, the monument looks magnificent with colourful fountains in the vicinity.

Qutub Minar is a 73-metre tall minaret, named after Qutb-ud-din Aibak. The tower contains 5 distinct tapering storeys, wherein first 3 storeys of this masterpiece are adorned with red sandstone, while the fourth and fifth storeys are constructed in marble and sandstone respectively, engraved with decorative Quranic texts. Interestingly, the tower has a spiral staircase with 379 steps, and has a mosque named 'Quwwat-ul-Islam Masjid' at the foot of the tower, which is the first mosque in India.

Known for its unique architectural design, Lotus Temple is a Bahá'í House of Worship, dedicated to harmony of humanity. Inspired by the lotus flower, the temple boasts of 27 free-standing marble-clad petals, and is surrounded by sprawling gardens and pond. With a height of over 34 metres, it can accommodate around 2500 people altogether. The temple welcomes every religion symbolizing the culture of Bahá'í Houses of Worship, and offers a tranquil ambience ideal for rejuvenation.

Chandni Chowk is translated as Moonlight Street. This iconic area in Delhi houses one of the oldest markets in the city. You can buy everything you want at wholesale prices here. The hustle and bustle of the street, the colourful and quaint stores, and the constant banter between buyers and sellers are experiences you should not miss. Chandni Chowk has about 1500+ shops.
